Our Association

LIVE ART AS AN “ART DE VIVRE”

Since 1986, we have developed our expertise in a very special field: cultural tourism.

Our initial ambition is to live art as an « art de vivre », to lead participants by their hand on our trips and tell them a story: the story of a place, its population, its architecture and its culture in the broadest sense.

Our team of professionals works on demand, adapting and creating tours and tailor-made programs.

Cultural tourism, special events and incentives, marketing and communication to be integrated in your seminar or congress: from the guided tour to your cultural event, Itinéraires answers promptly in (almost) every language. Each proposal is adaptable to your wishes and the reality of your timing and objective.

Art Nouveau and Art Déco in the City Center

The city centre leads us to the sumptuous Waucquez and Wolfers brothers' shops. Now respectfully the Belgian Comic Strip Centre and a toy shop, they are the only remaining shops left from the time of their construction. Horta was a fertile artist who always sought innovation and renewal. After the First World War and his trip to America, Horta gave himself over to a more stripped-down and geomandric style, Art Décoratif. The most representative example of this period is the façade of the Bozar. And yes, it is a façade by Horta. Even more surprisingly, it was he who designed the well-known Central Station in our beloved Brussels.

In the 19th century, Belgium's reputation made Brussels a sumptuous meandering place. At the forefront of the metallurgical industry, the leading producer of cars, and in demand from all over the world for railway construction, the country attracted the great and the good of the world. At the invitation of Ernest Solvay - one of our brilliant captains of industry - the Nobel Prize winners (including Einstein) came, for example, at the Hotel Métropole. The best example of this dynamism is the birth of Art Nouveau thanks to the brilliant architect Victor Horta.

Art Nouveau in Schaerbeek

The Avenue Louis Bertrand was laid out in 1905 and connects the Chaussée de Haecht with Josaphat Park. Alongside Avenue Louise and Avenue de Tervueren, it is one of the most beautiful streets in the capital. Façade competitions have encouraged many architects to build very elegant and diverse houses. Sgraffiti, ironwork, ceramics, turrets and brandenburgs liven them up. We invite you to a special itinerary for a targeted reading of Art Nouveau and Art Deco architecture.

Follow the guide on a tour of lesser-known architectural qualities. You will discover the Maison de Verre built by Paul Amaury Michel, the personalities of Henry Van de Velde, Robert Puttemans, Jo Ramaekers, Charles Colassin... You will also get a glimpse of the Brugmann square district - dominated by the Annunciation church and the former Red Cross Clinic -, and of the van Buuren museum, with its preserved Art Deco decor and its vast garden.
